SafeRoad acquires Outimex

January 4, 2011 - SafeRoad acquires the German traffic safety group Outimex.

SafeRoad is a leading European supplier of traffic safety systems. Outimex is positioned as a full-service partner for stationary and mobile road restraint systems.

The acquisition broadens SafeRoad's presence in Germany, following the acquisition of Bongard & Lind last year.

"I am convinced that joining the SafeRoad Group will open the way for further development of Outimex, and that we are well prepared to fulfill the growing demands of the European infrastructure business and meet our customers' increasing requirements", said Martina Zweiniger, Managing Director of Outimex.

"With Outimex we will further strengthen our market presence in Germany and Poland, and we will have a complete product range for export to other markets", said Jon Erik Engeset, CEO of SafeRoad.
